 - b. "What do you mean by acknowledging our lived experience?"
 - i. Maurice Goodman was referring to the lived experience of all students. As leaders of students, you are greater than that of your own. You are the voice of those that are not able to or can not afford to have a voice. As student leaders, the expectation is to not be one more voice supporting administration, but a voice that's unapologetically supporting students that may not agree with you or are marginalized. He says that the administration brought the policy before board when it was not something that we did not have to be.

- c. "When you referred to the ASSC as an embarrassment, we are curious to know what made you make that statement and the intention behind it for clarity."
 - i.
 - d. SMCCD Student Trustee Ashley Garcia: There was no student representation of those who are for and against the religion exemption present when the decision was made. The board was taken back by the ASSC statement not being said by a student during the meeting. The decision was made to not exclude students or make them feel discriminated against.
